'Russian Space Vehicle In Orbit

New Satellite
Reportedly Has
TV, Live Dogs

MOSCOW (AP)—The Soviet Union orbited a space vehicle Friday, saying it carried animals and a television camera to flash back their lofty adventures.

Moscow radio and the Soviet news agency Tass said the five-ton satellite is in an almost circular orbit 198.8 miles up, ringing the earth every 90.6 minutes. Inclination to the equator is 65 degrees.

Two dogs are among the animals, said Moscow radio—Streika (pointer or arrow) and Belka (squirrel). Both have flown before, in the company of a big gray rabbit, the radio said.

The space ship was launched to learn how living creatures may exist in space and how they may be returned to earth, Soviet scientists said.

What kind of animals the others are was not mentioned, nor was it stated whether their return from space is planned. Their space ship was described as big enough for a man.

Further Development

"The main purpose of the launching is the further development of a system to support man's life in space, security of his flight and return to earth," said a Tass announcement.

Correspondents assigned to the trial of U2 pilot Francis Gary Powers said the launching seemed to have been timed with the end of the trial to demonstrate that the Soviet Union can not only shoot down high-flying American planes but also shoot up high-flying dogs.

As reporters awaited the Powers verdict, Soviet authorities came up to them and triumphantly told of the launching. A few minutes later loudspeakers in the huge Hall of Columns—site of the trial—blared the news of what was called a cosmic space ship launching.

Beside the television relay, radio equipment is aboard to report on the animals' condition and on the functioning of scientific apparatus aboard, Tass said.

"Several medicobiological experiments will be made during the satellite ship's flight and a program of space research will be carried out," Tass said.

Launched in 1957
The first artificial satellite that sent life into space was whisked aloft by the Soviets in November 1957. That was the half-ton sphere carrying the dog Laika, launched less than a month after the first Sputnik went up.

No attempt was made to bring Laika back. The dog circled the globe for a week, then died in space.

The United States had a series of space triumphs last week: orbiting a huge metal balloon that reflects radio signals, altitude and speed records in the manned X15 rocket, and recovery of a space capsule ejected from a Discoverer satellite.

So far the United States has not orbited any living creature, but scientists did rocket two monkeys to the rim of the atmosphere and recovered them alive.

GOP Rights Bill Before Senate Group

WASHINGTON (AP)—A broad civil rights bill to carry out the Republicans' platform pledges Friday went to the Senate Judiciary Committee, a long-time graveyard for such measures.

But Sen. Jacob K. Javits (R-N.Y.), its principal sponsor, professed to be undismayed.

Before the present short session of Congress ends, Javits said, another attempt will be made to a showdown on the issue in one way or another.

The Judiciary Committee is presided over by Sen. James O. Eastland (D-Miss.), one of the Senate's most adamant foes of civil rights legislation.

Javits said he intends to hide his title until the Senate disposes of legislation to provide medical care for the aged, the foreign aid appropriations bill, and other measures carrying urgent labels.

Typical of the manner in which the Judiciary Committee handles civil rights bills: one to provide federal aid to desegregated school districts has been in its hands since April 10, 1959. This bill carries the recommendation of President Eisenhower.

One course open to Javits would be to file a petition to discharge the Judiciary Committee from further consideration of the school aid bill. This takes a majority vote of the Senate. Should this maneuver be tried and succeed, other civil rights proposals could be tacked on to it.

$15,000 Rhinoceros
LONDON (UPI)—One of the most valuable animals in the zoo world, a giant male Indian rhinoceros, was born Friday at the Whipsnade Zoo outside London.

A zoo official, who said "mother and child are doing well," estimated its value at roughly $15,000.

The first such rhino ever bred in Britain was born at Whipsnade three years ago and sold this year to the Milwaukee, Wis., zoo. Only four ever have been born in captivity anywhere in the world.

Record Downpour Snarls N.Y. Transportation

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
A record rain swamped the New York City area Friday, delaying trains and planes and snarling automobile traffic. Meanwhile a second storm—blustery Hurricane Cleo—punched northward toward New England.

Almost 3½ inches of rain splashed on New York in the 12 hours since 1 a.m., washing from the books a 21-year record for the date.

A heavier downpour hammered on parts of suburban Westchester County to the north. There a rainfall of 4½ inches turned some streets and parkways into streams.

Cleo—the Weather Bureau called it a relatively small hurricane—moved north some 300 miles off the Carolina coast. Peak winds of the season's third tropical storm were clocked at 85 m.p.h. by the storm's point of contact with the coast remained uncertain, the bureau said.

Flooding blocked traffic at numerous spots in the New York Metropolitan area. Vehicles moved slowly, when they moved at all, along other inundated thoroughfares. Commuter trains and airplanes ran behind schedule.

The previous record rainfall for Aug. 19 was three inches in 1939. Showers and thunderstorms also sloshed through portions of the Mississippi Valley, where a weather front which gave northern Illinois 2 to 3 inches of rain Thursday remained stalled. New rains generally were light, except for occasional local downpours.

Clear skies gave most of the Western half of the country temperatures in the 80s. The Pacific shoreline was a cool exception with readings in the 60s and 70s, as was the desert Southwest with levels near 100.

Officers To Meet
BALTIMORE (AP)—Officials of the Hospital Council of Maryland, the Medical and Chirurgical Faculty and the Blue Cross hospital insurance plan plan to get together some time after Sept. 6.

The proposed conference—the date and other details are up in the air—would be for additional discussion aimed at eliminating any abuses in the health insurance program.

Soviet Union Sentences U2 Pilot To 10 Years As Spy

Powers Hears
News Calmly,
Meets Family

MOSCOW (AP)—The Soviet Union sentenced Francis Gary Powers to 10 years—near the seven-year minimum provided by espionage laws.

He listened calmly to the sentence and then held an hour's reunion with his wife and parents. "I realize I committed a crime and that I must be punished for it," the American flier told the military court which tried him for three days.

The three generals who judged him answered his plea for leniency by specifying that only the first three years of his 10-year term must be served in prison. The rest of the sentence was described as deprivation of liberty, a phrase that usually means detention in a work camp.

There Is No Appeal

The court said there is no appeal, but under ordinary Soviet procedure the 10-year term can be reduced a third by good behavior. This would bring the total term down to about seven years, the minimum for espionage in this country.

Some Moscow diplomats expressed belief that he might be sent home after his three years in prison.

Barbara Powers, 24, the 31-year-old pilot's wife, broke down when she heard the verdict but quickly dried her tears so she could present a brave front in the ensuing reunion with her husband.

This took place in a small room off the show trial courtroom, the ornate Hall of Columns.

The prisoner rushed to exchange kisses with his wife; his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Oliver W. Powers; his sister, Jessica Hileman; and his mother-in-law, Mrs. Monteen Brown. They talked for an hour.

Pilot Is Grateful

His family lawyer, Frank W. Rogers, said after the reunion that Powers was grateful for the efforts of his Soviet-appointed defense attorney, Mikhail I. Griniov, but was distressed at the attacks on the United States that Griniov had voiced in court.

"After all, I am an American," Powers was quoted as saying.

Powers added that he realized Griniov made these attacks in an effort to help him by putting on others the blame for the high-level U2 flight that landed Powers in Soviet hands 1,200 miles within the Soviet Union.

The Soviet attorney had attacked United States policy as war-like. Powers was pictured as a pawn in East-West enmity and the court was told that the people responsible for sending Powers to the Soviet Union should have been on trial here.

But the prosecutor, Roman A. Rudenko, said in his summation that Powers "is a highly paid spy—no ordinary spy, but a specially drilled criminal."

The court's verdict—condemned "aggressive circles in the United States"—was read in Russian. (Cont. On Page 2, Col. 3)

Former GOP Leader Dies

WASHINGTON (UPI)—Former Republican Rep. Usher L. Burdick, known during his 20-year congressional career as a flamboyant individualist, died in a Washington hospital Friday night at the age of 81.

Death was attributed to heart and kidney ailments and other complications of old age.

Several members of the immediate family were with Burdick when he died—including his son, Quentin N., now a Democratic senator from North Dakota.

The senator said of his father: "A great man has just died."

The former congressman's 32-year-old wife, Jean, whom he married in 1938 shortly before his retirement from the House, reached his bedside shortly after he died.

Burdick had been in the hospital for three days, and had been semi-conscious since this morning. He died just after 7 p.m. e.d.t. Funeral plans were incomplete.

Senate Passes Economic Aid Bill For Latins

WASHINGTON (UPI)—The Senate in one-two fashion Friday night approved President Eisenhower's special $600 million economic aid program for Latin America and his $100 million aid program for the violence wracked Congo.

The Latin American aid bill, which includes $100 million for earthquake-ravaged Chile, was passed after brief debate despite Democratic misgivings over its vagueness and scope. The measure, however, merely authorizes the program. Congress will have another chance to review the program when it votes the actual funds.

After disposing of the Latin American measure, the Senate immediately began voting on the administration must bill to help stabilize the Congo, and possibly aid other emerging African nations.

The vote on the Latin American aid bill was 54 to 19. The vote on the Congo aid bill was 59 to 14.

Senate Foreign Relations Committee Chairman J. William Fulbright said the Latin aid bill should be approved because of the urgency of the situation in the area. He also said it would strengthen the hand of U.S. delegates to the western hemisphere economic conference in Bogota next month.

But he said he lacked enthusiasm for authorizing such a large sum with only "vague" plans for its use, and without fully detailed administrative procedures.

He also chided Eisenhower for delaying the start of the development program in the face of repeated calls by Democrats and others for a sizeable assistance program during the past eight years.

He described it as an "11th hour...dying gasp" of the administration and said "there is a great temptation to reject it."

Senate Democratic Leader Lyndon Johnson said in a brief statement inserted in the Congressional Record that the countries of Latin America "are entitled to intelligent help—the intelligent help that should come from a good neighbor."

Lodge Resigns UN Post To Campaign

WASHINGTON (AP)—Henry Cabot Lodge resigned his ambassadorship to the United Nations Friday to give his full time to running for vice president on the Republican ticket, starting two weeks from Saturday.

President Eisenhower, in a letter to "Dear Cabot," accepted the resignation with expressions of regret and gratitude mixed with approval of Lodge's decision.

Eisenhower put it this way: "The deep regret I feel at contemplating your leaving your United Nations post is mitigated by the knowledge that you do so only to offer yourself to the nation in an elective post of high responsibility and opportunity for service."

"In this effort you have, as you know, my heartfelt endorsement. The country could ill afford in these times to lose the service of a man of your abilities."

Eisenhower's press secretary, James C. Hagerty, said the President intends to name James J. Wadsworth as Lodge's successor. The resignation and changeover are effective Sept. 3.

Wadsworth has been deputy chief of the U.S. delegation to the U.N. since Lodge was appointed to head it back in 1953.

Born in Groveland, N. Y., 55 years ago, Wadsworth is a Yale graduate and a Republican who served in several governmental capacities during President Harry S. Truman's administration.

In choosing Wadsworth, Eisenhower rejected a suggestion Sen. J. William Fulbright (D-Ark.) made last Saturday.

Fulbright proposed that Lodge resign and that Eisenhower, in the name of national unity, appoint a Democrat Adlai E. Stevenson to succeed him. Other Democrats had made similar suggestions. Lodge's work in the United Nations—many viewers of the U.N. scene knew him as "the man who talks back to the Russians"—was a mighty factor in his being tabbed for the vice-presidential nomination. Presidential nominee Richard M. Nixon made the choice.

Broad-shouldered and handsome, with an emphatic way of doing business, Lodge, 58, showed up well on television during dramatic moments of United Nations crises.

Nixon and other Republicans figure he'll do as well as a political campaigner.

Only 2 Soviet Citizens Jailed As Spies In U.S.

NEW YORK (AP)—Only two Soviet citizens have been sentenced to prison for espionage in this country since World War II, and one of them did not serve any time. In each case, their sentence exceeded the 10 years given to U2 spy Francis Gary Powers in Moscow.

A score of other Soviet nationals, many of them diplomats, have been forced out of the country for spying. And perhaps a dozen Americans have gone to prison as spies for the Soviet Union here.

The only presently imprisoned Soviet spy is Col. Rudolf Abel, sentenced in 1957 to 30 years. Like Powers, he could have received the death penalty. Unlike Powers, he was able to appeal and did so, the appeal eventually taking his case to the U.S. Supreme Court.

Abel slipped into this country in 1948 and for nine years operated a spy network aimed at the theft of American military and atomic secrets. He was the first foreign national to stand trial for his life on espionage charges in a civilian American courtroom, and the highest-ranking Soviet agent ever tried here.

In the first big postwar trial, Valentin Gubitchev, Soviet engineer with the United Nations, was convicted in 1950 and sentenced to 15 years. However, he escaped imprisonment by agreeing to leave the country.

Gubitchev was convicted of receiving state secrets from Judith Coplon, an American government girl in Washington. She got sentences totalling 25 years but they were upset upon appeal and she never was retried.

The Soviet government came to Gubitchev's aid with legal assistance, but never made a move in Abel's behalf. Powers has been denied American legal aid by Soviet judicial rules.

Powers took the witness stand in his own defense in Moscow. Abel and Gubitchev had the same privilege here, but neither testified.

Cargo Plane Intercepts Craft In Air

85-Pound Payload
Nabbed In Descent
Over The Pacific

WASHINGTON (AP)—In a spectacular demonstration of aerial recovery technique, a specially equipped airplane caught a returning space capsule on the fly over the Pacific Ocean Friday.

It was a dramatic first-in-history, showing that even manned space craft can be intercepted on their return voyage and carried gently back to earth.

An Air Force cargo plane snatched the 85-pound payload of the newest satellite, Discoverer XIV, as it descended by parachute 10,000 feet above the Pacific some 300 miles south-southwest of Oahu.

The capsule had been in orbit 116 to 502 miles above the earth since it was launched from Vandenberg Air Force Base, Calif., Thursday. On its 17th flight around the earth it was ejected from the rocket satellite over Alaska.

Plunges Like Comet
The payload plunged through the atmosphere like a comet.

Ten C119 Flying Boxcars, trailing huge trapezes circled high over the assigned area. They and a Navy ship in the drop zone picked up the descending capsule on their radar screens, and computers helped them predict its course.

The weather favored them. There was a clear sky high over the 60x200-mile recovery strip south of Hawaii, with scattered clouds below at elevations of 2,000 to 7,000 feet.

Some skeptics had called it a fool's dream that an airplane could catch an object parachuting from space. But the Air Force crews were confident in spite of earlier failures.

The successful air snatch was one of the brightest of many new achievements in America's space efforts.

Top U.S. officials were frankly elated.

Crew Gets Medals
As soon as he heard of the successful air catch, Gen. Thomas D. White, Air Force chief of staff, authorized the award of the Distinguished Flying Cross to the commander of the recovery plane, Capt. Harold E. Mitchell, 35, of Bloomington, Ill., and Air Medals to all members of the crew.

The presentations were to be made when the plane returned to its base at Honolulu's Hickam Field.

It was the second time in eight days that a space capsule was recovered after having been in orbit around the earth.

Clouds prevented airplanes from catching the capsule of Discoverer XIII when it plunged earthward Aug. 1.

Although the C119s had it in sight for a time, the capsule disappeared into clouds and plunged. (Cont. On Page 2, Col. 5)

Antarctic Fire Takes 8 Lives

WASHINGTON (AP)—A fire at the main Soviet station in Antarctica has taken the lives of eight men. It was the worst tragedy reported in six years of organized international scientific exploration of the South Polar continent.

Six Russians, one Czech and one German, all scientists specializing in meteorology, were burned to death on Aug. 3 when a fire of unknown origin destroyed the meteorology building at Mirny. This is headquarters for the large-scale operations conducted by the Soviet Union and Iron Curtain countries in the antarctic.

First word of the disaster came early Friday in a message from the main U. S. Antarctica base at McMurdo, about 1,460 miles from Mirny. The message to the National Science Foundation in Washington offered no explanation of why the Russians delayed so long in reporting the accident to the rest of the international scientific community in the antarctic and to the world.

The one American scientist wintering over at Mirny with the Russians was reported to have escaped injury. The fire occurred during the frigid antarctic night when temperatures range anywhere from —45 degrees to a record low of 125 degrees below zero.

There have been small fires in several Antarctic stations in recent years with no reported casualties. But in the frigid weather there is little or nothing that can be done to save a building once it starts flaming.

There are some 100 Soviet Scientists and technicians at Mirny this winter.

Ike Regrets "Severity" Of Powers' Term

WASHINGTON (AP)—In a cautiously worded statement Friday, President Eisenhower regretted "the severity" of the 10-year sentence imposed on U2 pilot Francis Gary Powers by the Soviet Union.

Sen. John F. Kennedy, the Democratic presidential nominee, described the sentence as "extremely harsh—particularly when it is clear from the testimony that he was only carrying out his duty."

"I hope we all, led by the President, use our influence to help," Kennedy added. He said in response to a question that the U2 affair is not a campaign issue.

Sen. J. William Fulbright (D-Ark.), chairman of the Senate Foreign Relations Committee which investigated the U2 incident said he thought the sentence was "fairly lenient" for an espionage case.

Administration officials generally were silent on the outcome of the Moscow show trial.

Their restraint apparently was due to two factors—hope that Powers' sentence, which provides for three years in prison, may be modified; and little in the situation which could be developed to U. S. advantage.

White House press secretary James C. Hagerty summed up the government's reaction in these words:

"The President has been informed of the sentence imposed on Mr. Powers by the Soviet court."

"He deplores the Soviet propaganda activities in connection with the entire episode beginning last May and regrets the severity of the sentence."

"He extends his sincere sympathy to the members of the Powers family."

To this Hagerty added only that Eisenhower and Secretary of State Christian A. Herter do not intend to drop their interest in the case now that the trial has ended. It appeared that their further interest might relate in some degree to what the Soviets may try to make of the Powers case hereafter.

Chiefly it appeared Eisenhower and Herter would be looking for ways to get Powers released.

That was one possible line of action on which officials refused to speculate as the case grew to its close in a court action that became in some respects an anticlimax. So much of what was said had already become public. Even the imposition of a sentence far short of the possible death penalty had been indicated by the Soviet government's handling of the case.

Weeks ago, when speculation on Powers' future ran more freely through official quarters here, there was talk that some arrangement might be made to bring about his release. At that time officials privately and informally discussed the possibility of swapping Powers for a convicted Soviet spy, Col. Rudolf Ivanovich Able, 58, who drew a 30-year sentence in New York in 1957.

Now diplomats say that if such a thing were possible it would have to be explored in secret and any intention to make a trade would be denied publicly.

Railroads, 11 Unions Agree To Contract

CHICAGO (AP)—The railroads and 11 non-operating unions Friday agreed upon a 4 per cent pay and fringe benefit package for 550,000 employees ending a 15-month dispute.

The settlement, which follows recommendations of presidential fact-finding board, includes a 5-cent hourly wage increase, effective July 1, 1960, and fringe benefits estimated worth 2 per cent of the average basic $2.42 an-hour pay.

Terms of the contract, which apply for at least one year, include incorporation of the 17 cents an-hour cost of living factor of May 1, 1960, into basic pay rates and elimination of the cost-of-living escalator clause.

Each active employee also gets $4,000 worth of life insurance paid for by the employer.

Dependents of employees get hospital, medical and surgical benefits equal to those of employees.

Hospital, medical and surgical benefits will be kept in force for furloughed employees during a three-month period after separation from their jobs.

The contract includes liberalized rules covering vacation and holiday pay. Employees may now qualify for two weeks vacation after three years of employment.

Life insurance and health and welfare benefits become effective next year in lieu of an additional wage increase.

The settlement, in line with the 4 per cent package obtained by the four operating unions, will cost the carriers, according to Theodore Short, chairman of the employers' negotiating committee, more than $112 million dollars a year.

The emergency board outlined a settlement blueprint June 8 after more than one month of considering the dispute.

Holdup Men Out On Bond

FREDERICK (AP)—Four men accused in a $10,000 holdup of a private club last April have been released from the Frederick County Jail on bond.

Bond was continued at $20,000 each Thursday and the four men gained their freedom by posting it. They are Willie Charles Williams, Johnnie Douglas Boyd and Benjamin Greif, all of Newark, N.J., and Jaes Charles Toland of Washington, D.C.

A fifth accused, Charles Robert Graves of East Orange, N.J., is still in jail. He was recently convicted of robbery, assault with a dangerous weapon and housebreaking in the District of Columbia.

The men were arrested in Montgomery County about 30 minutes after patrons of the Spartan Club near Frederick were robbed of cash and jewelry worth $10,000 last April 11. Their trial is set for Sept. 7.

Mediators To Confer

OLD SAYBROOK, Conn. (UPI)—The nation's top state mediators will meet here for a three-day conference starting Sept. 7, it was announced Friday.

The meeting will be sponsored by the Association of State Mediation Agencies, which is composed of mediators from the 50 states.

Powers Hears

The sentence, pronounced by Judge L. Gen. Victor Borisoglebsky, calls for Powers' sentence to start as of May 1.

(A Soviet criminal law expert attending a U. N. crime congress in London, Prof. B. S. Nikiforov, told newsmen good conduct might cut Powers' sentence to 6½ years. Deputy Chairman Lev Smirnov of the Soviet Supreme Court said the work camps contain sports fields, movie theater and workshops "where a man can go on doing productive labor.")

He described the buildings as modern and pleasant—a version differing with many ex-prisoners' descriptions of the camps.

While there was nothing official available on how Powers' sentence might be reduced, there is a feeling among some diplomats and correspondents in Moscow that the Soviet Union will have no special desire to keep the flier after world excitement about him subsides.

Early in the day, Barbara Powers told a correspondent of the Soviet government newspaper Izvestia she intends to appeal to the Supreme Soviet (Parliament) for clemency. This procedure is possible under certain circumstances, although the court announced "the sentence is final and not subject to appeal."

Mrs. Powers also has expressed the hope of seeing Premier Nikita Khrushchev.

In his statement to the court, Griniov said Powers had told him he faced another trial in the United States if he returned home. He quoted the flier as saying he would be punished by 10 years in prison or $10,000 fine—or both—for disclosing details of his contract to fly for the U. S. Central Intelligence Agency.

In Washington, however, highly placed officials said any such fear was not well-based. They expressed doubt that Powers would be prosecuted on his return home.

Powers Trial In News Headlines All Over Europe

LONDON (AP)—The Powers trial seized the headlines throughout Europe Friday night—and the 10-year sentence, though no surprise, was met with some signs of relief.

Radio and TV stations broke regular programs to flash the sentence. Newspapers rushed out special editions with big black banners. Commuters argued the case as they have done all week.

"Better 10 years than hang-bang," said a middle-aged London printer. "But I don't think he'll even do 10 years. The Russians will let him out when it suits their propaganda."

In Copenhagen, a Danish girl said: "I think it was much too stern."

"No," said an older woman. "He was on a spy flight, wasn't he? He ran a risk and he lost."

For most evening newspapers the sentence came too late for editorial writers to analyze its meaning. They had made up their minds that the trial itself was a gigantic exercise in Soviet propaganda.

In Vienna, Die Presse said: "The trial has nothing whatever in common with trials in the free part of the world. The Americans have produced mountains of evidence against Russian and other Communist bloc spies who worked disguised as diplomats. But they were never subjected to this sort of show trial."

In Paris, the conservative Le Figaro said: "In three months Powers has become for the Soviets the symbol of U. S. foreign policy. On the other side of the Atlantic he is most likely considered a man devoted to his country who pays hard for an involuntary sacrifice. To us he appears a little like a child who has been caught at fault and who, like a well-behaved child, awaits his punishment."

Baltimore Nun Inherits $81,769

NEWPORT, R. I. (AP)—A nun who belongs to the All Saints Sisters of the Poor in Baltimore, Md. has inherited $81,769.28, it was disclosed Thursday when her mother's estate was settled in Probate Court here.

Sister Martina, the former Jane Martin Studley, was the residuary legatee to the estate of her mother, Mrs. Maude Martin Studley of Newport, who died May 19, 1957.

A first and final account of the administrator showing a settlement of a total of $83,560.14 was allowed by Judge George A. Teitz.

The bulk of the daughter's inheritance was left in stocks and bonds, but includes a cash sum of $10,079.03.

Continue Search

TORRELAVEGA, Spain (UPI)—Search teams struggled through a thick sea of mud Friday in a hunt for seven persons missing in a dam burst that killed 14 others Thursday night.

The dam, owned by a Belgian mine company, was used to store water for washing zinc and iron ores. When it collapsed, it sent tons of muddy water and sand cascading down on a cluster of mining shacks below it. All the buildings were demolished.

Cargo Plane

Four of the planes circled that area until the Haiti Victory radar recovery vessel could approach and send out a helicopter that plucked the capsule from the water.

Scientists were specially delighted with the midair recovery because it meant the instrument payload would be undamaged by water.

Further, an ocean landing might result in serious damage, or the capsule might sink before it could be found.

Before last week there had been six failures in attempts to recover Discoverer capsules. Some of the capsules failed to separate from the mother satellite on command, or had been ejected on a wrong course.

Discoverer XIV was launched into its polar orbit from Vandenberg Air Force Base at 12:57 p.m. Thursday.

After an 18,000-mile-an-hour journey that required only 94½ minutes for one turn around the earth, the instrument packet was separated from the Discoverer satellite at 5:46 p.m. Friday.

Less than half an hour later it was in the C119 catcher's trapeze mitt. The plane exultantly reported the catch at 6:15 p.m. and 12 minutes later the valuable package was hauled aboard the aircraft by special winch gear.

The recovery plane then headed for Hickam Field, Honolulu.

Woman Cuts Son's Leg Off In Farm Mishap

PRINCETON, Ind. (AP)—A woman amputated part of her son's leg left by a butcher knife Thursday after the leg was caught in a hay baler on the family farm five miles northeast of here.

Cyrus Dyer, 43, was reported in satisfactory condition in a Princeton hospital, where doctors finished amputating the leg above the knee.

Marietta Dyer, 63, said her son had stopped the baler to rest and had put his foot on the shaft from the tractor to the baler when his pants leg became snagged.

Union Council Irked At Demos

BALTIMORE (AP)—The Baltimore AFL-CIO Council is peeved at Maryland Democrats because of their plan to have a non-union caterer for a big, $100-a-plate party dinner Sept. 16.

The union group, which has about 100,000 members, is sending a complaint about the dinner to presidential nominee John F. Kennedy, who will attend. Vice presidential nominee Lyndon B. Johnson also has indicated he hopes to attend the dinner in suburban Pikesville.

"State leaders in the Democratic Party consulted no one in the AFL-CIO about the caterer for the dinner," Council President Francis S. Filbey said Thursday night.

Another official said: "They are glad to receive our money, our work and our votes, but they don't want to give anything in return. The leaders of the Democratic Party in this state continue to show complete disregard for the labor movement."

A spokesman for Local 36 of the union for bartenders and restaurant workers said the same type of thing has come up before but organized labor has soft-pedaled its objections at the last minute for the sake of party harmony.

Provision Made For Compensation For Francis Powers

WASHINGTON (AP)—The State Department announced Friday night that provision has been made "for continuing compensation" for U2 plane pilot Francis Gary Powers while he is held in the Soviet Union.

The department also said that "the United States government has no intention of prosecuting" Powers when he returns to the United States "because it sees nothing in his conduct to warrant such prosecution."

The announcement said arrangements have been made "to provide for his wife." Presumably this means that Barbara Powers will be given a part of the pilot's $2,500-a-month salary.

Eisenhower Seeks Twining Promotion

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Eisenhower Friday asked the Senate to promote Gen. Nathan F. Twining to full four-star general rank when he retires as chairman of the Joint Chiefs of Staff.

Twining currently holds the regular rank of major general in the Air Force.

Twining's forthcoming retirement had been announced by the White House but a date for it to take effect has not yet been set. Twining has been in poor health.

Tourist Unit Is Appointed By Chamber

Ernest B. Treat and J. L. Towler have been appointed co-chairmen of the tourist and convention committee of the Cumberland Chamber of Commerce.

Other members of the committee, announced yesterday by C. M. Sanner, president of the Chamber, are:

Thomas F. Conlon Jr., Miles G. Thompson Jr., Miss Helen Tasker, Philmore Fleming, Clarence Wagner, Anton Squillari, Lee Marple and Henry Gehauf.

The committee has been asked to encourage the development of convention facilities and standardize procedures for attracting conventions and the details of housing, meeting place and feeding.

The group was also asked to survey all possible tourist attractions, make recommendations for improvements, take steps to make them available on regular schedules, advertise and to encourage visitors.

The committee was also asked to develop an educational program, encourage first line ambassadors — policemen, service station attendants and taxi drivers — to be aware of their importance in selling Cumberland to the outsider.

Fiscal Ordinances Are Prepared

Proposed ordinances setting the levy and appropriations for the 1960-61 fiscal year have been prepared by City Auditor Arthur B. Gibson.

They will be presented for the consideration of the Mayor and Council Monday at 9 a.m. and, if approved, will be adopted at the regular Council meeting which follows.

Also prepared is a charter amendment resolution which would delete from the city charter all references to a municipal band.

No funds for the band are presently included in the appropriations ordinance.

GETS DEGREE — Peter C. Charuhas, son of Mr. and Mrs. Christ G. Charuhas, 707 Sylvan Avenue, this month received his BA degree in political science at Washington College (Chestertown). A member of Theta Chi Fraternity, Beta Eta Chapter, Charuhas went to Washington from Allegany High School where he was a football and baseball star. In college he played soccer, lacrosse and baseball. He was homecoming decorations chairman at Washington in 1959 and 1960 and fraternity songfest chairman the same two years.

Saeli Is Author Of Publicity Guide

Anthony Saeli, former manager of the Cumberland Chamber of Commerce, is the author of "Meet the Public," a publicity manual for Chamber of Commerce executives.

A copy of the 28-page manual published by the American Chamber of Commerce Executives, has been received by the local Chamber.

Mr. Saeli, who served as manager of the Cumberland chamber for six years, is now executive vice president of the Alexandria, Va., Chamber of Commerce.

He is an accepted authority on trade association publications and for a number of years has served as instructor at ACCE training sessions.

C Of C Lists Program For Coming Year

President C. M. Sanner of the Cumberland Chamber of Commerce, has released the annual program of committee assignments following approval by the Board of Directors at a meeting Thursday and terms it "the most inclusive in the Chamber's 44-year history."

Sanner said "It includes projects started by previous administrations and new ideas for bringing progress and prosperity to the area. The work of making Cumberland and Allegany County a better place to live and make a living is of importance to everyone. We hope to gain widespread support of this work so that it may be accomplished and additional projects undertaken. Ideas for improving the program will be welcomed at all times."

Copies are being sent to teachers, clergy, unions, service clubs and other civic leaders.

"Recognizing the problems and organizing for action is an important part of the job," Sanner said, adding "But the real test of the Chamber's effectiveness will be the accomplishment of the long-range program outlined here. All business and professional people will have the opportunity to insure success by being a part of the Chamber and its program. Conversely, apathy, lack of support and a 'let George do it' attitude can greatly hamper our progress. I hope that when the Chamber's membership campaign gets underway next month, every business man and professional person in the area will lend his support to our efforts by joining and taking an active part in the program," he stated.

Sanner said that while directors realize work continues year after year, the real effectiveness depends on "our getting across to the people of the community just what a chamber of commerce is—people, working together, doing things, good things, for themselves and for the community. If people will take time to read our program, follow up on our progress, the support will come," he said.

Imler Given Suspended Term In Theft

Alfred T. Imler, 52, of 223 South Spruce Street, received a suspended three-year sentence to the House of Correction yesterday in Circuit Court on a charge of larceny of $1,085 from Ritter's Tavern, 229 Paca Street, last Saturday.

Chief Judge Morgan C. Harris imposed the sentence and placed Imler under supervision of the parole officer. He was warned to be of good behavior and report regularly to the parole officer.

Imler was tried on criminal information presented to the court by Donald W. Mason, assistant state's attorney. The accused was arrested by City Police Detective Thomas See last Saturday not long after the money was taken.

All but $3 of the amount was found hidden under the roof of a coal shed adjoining Imler's house. The money was taken shortly after the tavern opened for business. It was in a cash box on a table back of the bar. The money was on hand for cashing checks of customers.

Imler was working in the tavern at the time icing beer, according to police.

The TREMENDOUS Teens

THE CHURCH FOR ALL... ALL FOR THE CHURCH

The Church is the greatest factor on earth for the building of character and good citizenship. It is a storehouse of spiritual values. Without a strong Church, neither democracy nor civilization can survive. There are four sound reasons why every person should attend services regularly and support the Church. They are: (1) For his own sake. (2) For his children's sake. (3) For the sake of his community and nation. (4) For the sake of the Church itself, which needs his moral and material support. Plan to go to church regularly and read your Bible daily.

Day	Book	Chapter	Verses
Sunday	Ezekiel	46	2-3
Monday	Romans	14	22-23
Tuesday	Psalms	102	25-28
Wednesday	John	1	17
Thursday	Colossians	1	6-9
Friday	Romans	12	6-9
Saturday	Romans	12	10-18

Hardest fact for the adult mind to comprehend is that a teen-ager stands at the threshold of life.

When you enter a strange door you are uncertain. You don't know what's in store for you. You aren't sure which way to turn.

There may be familiar, welcoming voices — but even these now have the ring of uncertainty. For when your whole world is changing, can you be sure that the people around you are not changing also?

For boys and girls in this time of uncertainty the Church is the fulcrum of strength. Its truth is unchanging. Its teaching is clear. Its promises are worthy of hope, trust, endeavor, sacrifice.

The problems of the teen-ager are tremendous... but so is the might of his God. The character, the certainty, the charity of the Church inspires his ideals... challenges his courage.

W.Va. Approves Abandonment Of B&O Trains

Diplomats To Be Removed From Rails

CHARLESTON, W. Va. (AP)—The Baltimore and Ohio Railroad has been authorized by the Public Service Commission to abandon two main line passenger trains through West Virginia, contingent on discontinuance orders in Ohio and Maryland.

The trains are the eastbound and westbound Diplomats operated daily between Baltimore and St. Louis. Commission sources quoted B&O representatives that Ohio and Maryland already have authorized discontinuance of the runs in those states.

That would mean the B&O would need only to post 10-day notice to be able to carry out the PSC order with respect to the trains in West Virginia. The B&O said it suffered an out-of-pocket loss of almost $700,000 on the trains for the year ended last March 31.

The B&O explained that its top trains between St. Louis and Baltimore, the National Limited, operate on schedules in close proximity to the Diplomat, and will make the same stops except for Piedmont in Mineral County on the eastbound run.

Somerset Covered Bridge Will Be Preserved

SOMERSET Pa. — A 130-year-old covered bridge in Middlecreek Township has been saved from destruction as a result of efforts of Somerset County Historical and Genealogical Society.

The Barronvale Bridge over Laurelhill Creek was earmarked for demolition to make way for a new span to be built by the State Department of Highways.

Officials of the historical society, eager to save the old bridge, enlisted assistance to preserve the structure.

They contacted highway officials, Middlecreek Township supervisors, Somerset County commissioners and prominent citizens.

State Senator J. Irving Whalley, of Windber, and W. John Stetler Jr., Rockwood R D 3, insurance executive, gave their enthusiastic support.

It first was suggested that the bridge be moved but society officials found this would be a costly venture.

They appealed to Highways Secretary Park Martin and pointed out that the span is one of the last remaining bridges of its type on the state highway system in the area. In addition they held it would be a simple matter for the highway department to revise plans for building a new span and approaches merely by bypassing the Barronvale Bridge.

Secretary Martin was sympathetic. Plans for the new road and bridge were revised. Middlecreek Township supervisors agreed to assume responsibility for the old bridge. The historical society has agreed to help preserve it as a colorful relic of the passing highway scene in America.

In a letter to the Middlecreek Township supervisors, Secretary Martin has confirmed that the bridge will be saved. He wrote the supervisors:

"I wish to acknowledge receipt of your letter of June 6, 1960, in which you gave me the official notice that the supervisors of Middlecreek Township are willing to assume the responsibility for the old covered bridge, known as the Barronvale Bridge on Legislative Route 53118, Middlecreek Township, and when the section of highway on which it stands is abandoned by the State Department of Highways after the new bridge is built."

"This is to advise you that, with this assurance, this department will prepare its plans for the new bridge in such a fashion that when the new highway is completed the old highway and bridge will be abandoned back to your township."

A petition for construction of the bridge was presented to the

Gov. Underwood Will Not Get Transcript

Refuses Apology To Crime Group

CHARLESTON, W. Va. (UPI)—Gov. Cecil H. Underwood apparently isn't going to get a transcript of Wednesday's West Virginia Crime Commission testimony and the commission isn't going to get an apology from the governor for a spectacular appearance he made before the group Thursday.

Underwood said Friday he has no intention of apologizing to the commission. The governor barged into the hearing room Thursday and charged the commission with character assassination for political purposes.

He later asked for a transcript of testimony the previous day concerning reports of alleged payoffs by White Sulphur Springs gamblers for protection from police raids. The commission said no — not until Underwood apologized for his "rude and preemptory" action.

The governor said Friday an attorney has told him the commission is unconstitutional. Underwood said the question brought up by his lawyer and others is that matter of creating a Crime Commission was not in the call to the 1960 Legislature and that a resolution setting it up wasn't passed by the necessary two-thirds vote.

Underwood said he had no objection to "an honest and sincere investigation of crime in the state." However, he contended, the commission "doesn't have personnel of the caliber to make such an investigation."

"Instead the commission witnesses have made only vague insinuations and the commission members do not ask questions to clarify these insinuations," he added.

In his Thursday blast after showing up uninvited and unexpected at a commission hearing, Underwood attacked the integrity of four former State Police officers. They had given testimony inferring some members of the State Police of the Underwood administration were on the "take" from gambling interests.

The governor said a former major and three ex-captains had been ousted from the force for various violations.

The Food Hoard Grows Bigger

Bountiful Mother Nature promises no cure for one of Uncle Sam's biggest headaches. The nation's 1960 farm crops already are tentatively pegged at 119 per cent of the 1947-49 average. Continued good weather together with favorable harvest conditions could push the yield higher. So Uncle Sam, already holding surpluses valued at $9.2 billion, probably must find more storage space. He already is paying millions of dollars a day to hoard supplies left over from other years and which he doesn't know what to do with.

The Department of Agriculture, in sizing up crop prospects for August, estimates livestock feed grains — corn, oats, barley and sorghums — will fall about 4 per cent short of last year's output.

But the prospect that food grains—wheat, rye and rice—will top the 1959 volume by 20 per cent threatens to push the total at least one point above the record set in 1958 and equalled last year.

Fewer people cultivating fewer farms can still add to Uncle Sam's surplus headaches. Yet there is an "exploding" population to feed. Perhaps the point may be reached someday where a greatly increased number of people in the United States will need the full capacity of the nation's agriculture.

But the question is how much grain Uncle Sam will buy meanwhile and what it will cost him to store it.

The Campaign I

Nixon v. Kennedy has not yet developed into a debate on issues. Kennedy has a brain trust of Harvard professors; Nixon has a brain trust of Harvard professors and some others. This is mostly window dressing. Both candidates have been in the national legislature for 14 years. They know what they believe. They also know that what they believe and what they are prepared to say are not quite the same thing. As men of great experience in politics, they will not and cannot depend on academic and business advisers to counsel them. Ultimately, they will follow those lines of least opposition which might assure election.

Nor are the academic and business advisers of either candidate particularly impressive from a vote-gathering standpoint. And elections have to do with votes; that is why they are held. Therefore, we can regard the announcement of these lists of great minds as a one-day news story and forget about them forever more.

Thus far, neither candidate has startled the nation with ideas and purposes. John Kennedy's speech at Franklin D. Roosevelt's grave was a dramatic performance of no particular vote-getting significance. The appeal to the old voters was mindful of the long-forgotten Dr. Townsend. Granted that the problem of the aged is constantly with us, the matter is not as acute, for instance, as the deterioration of the dollar. And about that neither of the candidates speaks a word.

Richard Nixon needs to take the initiative in dealing with major problems or he has to run in defense of the Eisenhower Administration. He needs to prove to the country that he has the stature of a President as well as that of a Vice President. In the campaign he can prove it only by words. Thus far, the Republicans have put out two propagandistic ideas: one deals with Kennedy's very bad attendance record in the Senate. The entire country witnessed Kennedy chasing hither and yon winning primaries, seeking delegates, etc. A man cannot be in two places simultaneously; therefore if Kennedy was beating Humphrey in Wisconsin and West Virginia, he could not be in the Senate. The other is a pamphlet on what other Democrats said about Kennedy and it is a devastating indictment. Now, I suppose the Democrats will issue a pamphlet on what Republicans said about Nixon over the years. Such pamphlets are not fundamental.

Thus far, the candidates have avoided fundamentals. Ordinarily this is good politics. This has long been regarded as correct technique. But it is not going to work too well in this campaign. The conditions the country faces are too serious and many of them will grow more complicated during the campaign. The people are looking for leadership. The people want a man to stand up forthrightly.

If both candidates will note the response in the Republican Convention to the excitement over the speeches of Senator Barry Goldwater and Representative Walter Judd, they will learn much of what is in the minds of our people. And if they will have a look at the current ferment in the South, they will also discover that public opinion in this country is not made up of a handful of college professors and exhibitionist businessmen and labor leaders. If ever a people did its own, individualistic thinking, it is the American people in this election.

Both candidates face one serious problem, namely, that many will not vote for either of them unless strong leadership is exhibited. The Republicans defeated both Wendell Wilkie and Thomas E. Dewey by not voting for them. This is demonstrable by a comparison with the vote cast in those elections for local officials. The Conservative Republican and the Conservative Democrat constitute a sufficiently large part of the electorate to influence the outcome of the 1960 election. The Conservative Republican defeated Wendell Wilkie but even more so Thomas E. Dewey. He just abstained from voting for a President of the United States. This year, that can also occur in the South among the Democrats.

Richard Nixon still has to speak up and if he means to have a fighting campaign, he must, to win, fight with ideas and sincerity. Getting canned stuff from a brain trust was possible in 1932 when Roosevelt used this device; in 1960, the nation wants a man to speak for himself. The people are on to ghost-writers.

U-2 Surveillance Not The Same As Spying

By David Lawrence

WASHINGTON — Is Francis Powers really a "spy" in a legal sense under international law?

For the first time someone from the United States has revealed that the whole case against Powers rests on a flimsy basis.

Spencer M. Beresford, special counsel for the Committee on Science and Astronautics of the U. S. House of Representatives, has just delivered at Stockholm, Sweden, a noteworthy speech before the 11th annual Congress of the International Astronautical Federation. Though he says his "observations on this subject are personal and not official," he demolishes the Soviet argument that Powers is a "spy" or is guilty of "espionage" in the sense that the term is customarily used in legal circles.

Mr. Beresford makes the point that no country, including the Soviet Union, has officially objected to the launching of satellites, including the surveillance vehicles known as "Tiro" and "Midas." He says that the international agreement on civil aviation approved in Chicago in 1944 was not signed by the Soviet Union and hence its provisions are not binding on the U.S. with respect to airspace over Russia. But even the Chicago agreement, he insists, does not cover the present type of aircraft used. He adds:

"There are persuasive reasons for challenging the view that the U-2 flights over Soviet territory were violations of international law. It seems necessary to stress, in particular, that there is no applicable agreement between the United States and the Soviet Union concerning the use of airspace. . . . We may inquire also whether the U-2 flights invaded 'airspace' as that term is used in the Chicago convention. . . . The convention does not define 'airspace' or any equivalent term. . . . There is wide agreement that there must be an upper limit to national sovereignty. There is, however, no agreement on what that limit should be. The proposed upper limits to national sovereignty all seem more or less arbitrary. Neither physical conditions nor flight characteristics can be reasonably related to any fixed altitude. . . . Under most proposals, sovereignty would end at the top of the atmosphere. This is sometimes taken to be the biological limit for man without special equipment. . . . Mr. Beresford then goes on to point out that the U-2 is designed to fly at a height of more than 12 miles "which is higher than man can breathe and beyond the boiling altitude of water at body temperature," and "for human survival above that point, breathing apparatus must be supplemented by a pressure suit."

There is no "customary international law" governing the situation, as this assumes, according to Mr. Beresford, a "long-continued accumulation of unbroken precedents by which nations acquiesce in practice to the impenetrability of one another's airspace." He points out that "freedom of the seas" did not become a generally-accepted principle of international law "for hundreds of years."

Mr. Beresford makes the further point that the bounds of sovereignty "are set by the principle of effective control." He continues: "The Soviet Union itself appears to have accepted 'effective control' as the limit of its three-dimensional sovereignty, by not objecting to the earlier U-2 flights."

Inside Washington

By Henry Cathcart

CUBA SEIZURES — Expropriation of virtually all American properties in Cuba by the Castro regime has stung the Eisenhower administration into action.

Some positive and forceful steps are in the making to demonstrate to Fidel and Raul that their excesses cannot continue with impunity.

This was the import of high policy decisions which have already been taken in Washington. The actual moves will be disclosed only as they occur, but they are imminent and will take place well before the November elections and possibly during the resumed session of Congress.

Probable first step will be strong representations to the Castro government for adequate compensation to the American firms whose properties have been seized to the tune of almost a billion dollars. Thus far, Cuba has observed only the seizure provisions of international law, but has neglected to meet the compensation provisions of this same "law."

There is a good chance that the United States will take steps to "freeze" Cuban assets in the U.S., a move proved highly successful against America's enemies during World War II.

A third step, also in the economic field, will be to ask the other Western Hemisphere republics to put Cuba on a "cash-and-carry" basis in her international trade dealings. While some Latin American countries may resist this, it is believed that the U.S. has sufficient persuasive powers to invoke the move on a hemisphere-wide basis.

What Washington is trying to disprove is Castro's boast that the U.S. is taking no action because of fears of Russian intervention on Cuba's side.

Nixon Wants Khrushchev To Come To New York; Herter Does Not

By Drew Pearson

WASHINGTON — There was some significant backstage by-play before President Eisenhower made his recent press conference statement indicating that he might confer with Premier Khrushchev in New York if Khrushchev attended the United Nations in September.

What the public didn't know was that Secretary of State Herter had sent the President a detailed briefing paper advising him not to encourage the Khrushchev visit. Herter pointed out that if Eisenhower met with Mr. K on top of all the recent Moscow criticism it would be interpreted around the world as a sign of weakness.

But Eisenhower spurned the advice of his Secretary of State. State Department officials were mystified as to the reason why.

What they didn't know was that Vice President Nixon held exactly the contrary view. He is hoping that Khrushchev does come to New York.

Nixon figures that if Mr. K does lead the Russian delegation to the United Nations, he, Nixon can lead the American Delegation and stage a repeat of his so-called kitchen debate with Khrushchev in Moscow. This, on top of the fact that Henry Cabot Lodge, the GOP Vice Presidential running mate, is continuing to debate the Russians at UN disarmament talks, would just about elect him, Nixon figures.

So he sent word that he should not close the door to a Khrushchev visit. The President co-

Note—CIA Director Allen Dulles has warned like there's every sign Khrushchev will come to New York, then go on to Cuba and Mexico. Mr. K's main goal, Dulles advises, will be to pose once again as a man of peace. Simultaneously, Dulles warns, Khrushchev hopes to convince the world that Russia has grown strong militarily that the United States must permit him to come to the USA any time he so desires.

Praying For Africa

Congressman Wayne Hays, Ohio Democrat, was piloting a group of U. S. Congressmen through Africa. With him were Barratt O'Hara, Democrat of Chicago, Ill., and Marguerite Stitt Church, Republican of suburban Chicago, both with Negro votes in their districts, and both anxious to have their pictures taken with African leaders.

In Accra, Ghana, the group visited Premier Nkrumah, where Hays called upon O'Hara to make the concluding speech. During previous speeches, Premier Nkrumah had sat stony-faced and grim. He showed no trace of a sense of humor.

"I want you to know, Mr. Prime Minister," said Congressman O'Hara, "that I come from a city—Chicago—where there are 250,000 Africans in my district. They are following with the greatest interest and approval the wonderful fight for democracy you are staging in Ghana."

Nkrumah, who the day before had jailed all of the opposition party, gave no sign of reaction. "And every night in Chicago," concluded Congressman O'Hara, "there are 250,000 Africans down on their knees praying for the success of your great democratic experiment."

At this point, Congressman Hays made a little speech of his own.

"You were educated in the United States, Mr. Prime Minister," he said, referring to the fact that Nkrumah graduated from Lincoln University near Philadelphia, also studied at the University of Pennsylvania. "And perhaps you know that if there are 200 Negroes in Chicago down on their knees at night they're not praying for Ghana, they're shooting craps."

For the first time, the Prime Minister of Ghana showed some humor. He roared.

Uncle Sam is so mixed up over Cuba that his right hand appears totally unaware of what the left hand is doing. Here are some perplexing examples:

Right Hand—The Central Intelligence Agency, working quietly, has helped unite five anti-Castro groups into a single, effective underground organization.

Left Hand—Just as these anti-Castro leaders are ready to work together with CIA help, the State Department suddenly orders them to move their operations out of the United States.

Right Hand—The American Embassy in Havana has encouraged prominent Cubans to defect from Castro, offering them refuge in the United States. Hundreds of Cuban lawyers, doctors, engineers, economists, and landowners are now living in exile in Miami, struggling for a living at such menial jobs as washing dishes and waiting on tables. The statements of the most noted defectors have been played up throughout Latin America by the U. S. Information Service.

Left Hand—Attorney General Rogers has hired 180 extra agents to stop the flow of refugees into this country from Cuba. This coincides with a crackdown by Castro upon exit permits. Thus, the Justice Department and the Cuban dictator are now cooperating to curb Cuban defections.

Right Hand—Vice President Nixon and Secretary of State Herter have called for increased economic aid to our Latin-American friends.

Left Hand—Secretary of the Treasury Anderson and Budget Director Maurice Stans have advised the President not to grant any more money to Latin America but to limit the aid to a general authorization with the funds to come in the vague future—in other words, an I. O. U. (Copyright 1960, By The Bell Syndicate)

Quizzing 'The Brain'

By Leslie Gould

"What makes stock prices go up or down?"

"Is an investor better off buying the 'blue chips' or more speculative issues?"

These are some of the questions the University of Chicago is being paid $50,000 to find the answers by pressing the button of one of those electronic brains.

The machine, in finding the answers, will be fed the monthly closing prices since January 1926—that's what the man said, 1926—of all stocks listed on the N. Y. Stock Exchange. Also, their dividends, stock splits, rights offerings, options, earnings, changes in shares outstanding, volume, etcetera, etcetera, etcetera.

Also the machine will be fed what the researchers call parallel statistics on margins and on the national economy—in fact, any data that may or may not influence stock prices.

Back in 1929—right at the top of the boom—this then young reporter was offered for $500—one hundredth part of $50,000—a piece in a little gadget that would tell what the stock market was going to do—not what it had done and why.

The gadget resembled the metronome used for timing by the beginner piano player. This gadget was to do the same thing for the stock market player.

Since this was before the electronic age, instead of inserting punch cards or a tape and then punching a button, the user of this market analyzer had to set dials—one on the previous close of Dow Jones industrials, a second on the Dow Jones rails, a third on volume and the fourth on some other market statistic which slips our mind.

Then, you squeezed a bulb, like that which the doctor uses in finding your blood pressure after putting a tourniquet around your arm. If a red light showed you sold or stayed on the sidelines. If it flashed a white or green light it was o.k. to buy.

To demonstrate, the "inventor" set the machine back according to the market picture a month or more before. And the gadget worked according to the past record. All he wanted was $500.

Research On Treatments For Psoriasis

By Dr. Theodore R. Van Dellen

Many victims of psoriasis welcome summer because the sun benefits their skin condition. The effects of ultraviolet are enhanced by the simultaneous use of a coal tar ointment. The combination is one of our most popular remedies.

More research has been conducted on psoriasis than on any skin disease. The lesions have been analyzed chemically and studied under the microscope. The victims have been hospitalized and given all the blood tests in the book, as well as special diets, wonder drugs, hormones, and practically everything else in the pharmacy. But the cause continues to elude the medical profession despite promotion of various products to the contrary.

Some authorities are convinced that psoriasis is an infection and blame a virus. Others regard it as a disturbance of the endocrine glands or of nutrition. Psychological factors were noted in 48 per cent of a series of 200 patients.

The most highly promoted cause is a disturbance in fat metabolism. The devotees of this camp prescribe products made from the pancreas that aid digestion and prevent excess fat from accumulating in the liver. This plan includes abstinence from alcohol plus a low fat, high protein diet. Improvement was noted in 65 per cent of one group of cases.

The most popular remedies are ointments applied directly to the lesions. The majority contain tar but the ingredients in the mixture vary, depending upon where the lesions are located and whether they are inflamed.

Excellent results were obtained in 80 per cent of a group of 74 patients with lesions on hairless parts of the body. In 13, the plaques cleared completely. The product used was a mixture of coal tar, allantoin, and a soybean complex. But this preparation may not fill the bill in psoriasis of the scalp and its margins. For this reason, the prescription must be tailored to individual needs.

(Dr. Van Dellen will send a self-addressed envelope accompanied by $200 cash outright for as little as $200. By contrast, it is estimated that Dr. Seuss' ultimate earnings from "The Cat in the Hat" (including TV, movie, and toy revenue) may top a million dollars.)

THYROID OPERATION
W. R. H. writes: Are there any changes in body functions after the thyroid is taken out?
REPLY
The surgeon usually leaves behind a small amount of thyroid tissue. This may be enough to supply the body with its quota of thyroid extract. If not, signs of hypothyroidism develop, such as dry skin, slow pulse, puffiness of the face, and lack of pep and ambition. Thyroid tablets correct the situation and may be needed for life.

Try And Stop Me

By Bennett Cerf

When you were a schoolboy, did you ever read a book by "Oliver Optic"? His real name was William T. Adams, and he wrote more books for boys than any other except Horatio Alger Jr. Another prolific writer for the younger boy was Scribner's Ingham, who signed many of his books "Col. William Cody" (after Buffalo Bill) and invented that off-copied detective, Nick Carter. Possibly the best-known writer of boys' books in the early part of the century was "Burt L. Standish," whose real name was Gilbert Patton. It was Standish who invented those two magnificent heroes from Yale, Frank and Dick Merriwell.

Writing juveniles in the old days provided steady but not too remunerative work for the likes of Horatio Alger and Burt Standish. Many of their most popular books were sold outright for as little as $200. By contrast, it is estimated that Dr. Seuss' ultimate earnings from "The Cat in the Hat" (including TV, movie, and toy revenue) may top a million dollars.

Reds Edge Pirates, 4-3; Senators Spill Yankees, 4-2

Post, Pinson Hit Homers For Cincy

Brosnan Helps Bob Purkey Win 13th; Mizell Is Loser

CINCINNATI (UPI) — Wally Post and Vada Pinson each hit home runs to help the Cincinnati Reds defeat the league-leading Pittsburgh Pirates, 4-3, Friday night.

Bob Purkey, getting ninth-inning help from Jim Brosnan, picked up his 13th victory against seven losses. Vinegar Bend Mizell was the loser.

The loss ended a Pirate winning streak at four games and was the Reds' first victory over the league leaders in six games at Crosley Field this season.

Brosnan, taking over in the ninth with runners on first and third and one out, retired the side without a run scoring.

Doubles by Bill Virdon, Rocky Nelson and Roberto Clemente gave the Pirates a two-run lead in the first inning. Don Hoak opened the second with a single to right. Bill Mazeroski then singled to center, sending Hoak to third. The Pirate second baseman then took second on the throw to third.

However, Purkey bore down and retired the next three batters on infield chances without a run scoring.

Post's 16th homer of the season gave the Reds a run in the fourth inning.

They added three in the fifth to go ahead 4-2. Gordy Coleman opened the inning with a walk. After Lee Cardenas lined out, Purkey moved Coleman to second with a sacrifice. He scored on Billy Martin's single. Pinson followed with a two-run homer, his 12th of the season.

Bob Skinner opened the eighth with a pop fly double to left which hit on the foul line. Nelson's grounder moved him to third from where he scored on Clemente's single to left.

SPORT SLANTS

Brelsford Wins 140 An Orchid For "Whip" Mitchell Joins Owls Md. Hunt Acreage

By C. V. BURNS

ONE OF THE MOST impressive pitching records in the tri-state area is owned by Junior Brelsford, ace of the Greenpoint Inn Old Exports of the County Softball League.

This is his seventh season in the county circuit and over that period he has rolled up a total of 114 victories while losing 20 contests for an average of .851.

Counting his two seasons in the City League with the Hermans and the Old Exports (22-8), Brelsford's overall mark is 140-29 for nine years of pitching. In the County League he has twirled for LaVale, Hercules Powder Kegs, Potomac Valley Old Germans, Homewood Tavern and Greenpoint Inn.

Brelsford has established a new record for area softball pitchers this season by recording a total of 13 shutouts, not counting the playoffs which are yet to come. Last year he had 11 shutouts during the regular campaign with Homewood Tavern and added two more white washings in the playoffs.

His goose-egg performances this season include Fossilville four times, Melody Manor, thrice, and Wellersburg, Corriganville and Stringtown each twice.

He failed to blank Ellerslie and one of his two losses came at the hands of Ellerslie in a 1-0 contest.

Brelsford's record for the current campaign is 27-2. Last year he was 23-3 for the regular season and upped his mark to 27-5 in the playoffs.

The most wins scored by a pitcher during the regular season in the County League was 28 by Glenn Kauffman of Corriganville in 1951. Kauffman now holds the record for the County League. He also racked up the most wins over one season, including the playoffs, when he notched a total of 33 nine years ago.

THE COUNTY Softball League, which has been in operation for 22 years, has completed one of its most successful seasons.

Out of a total of 142 games, including two ties, there were only three contests in which teams were forced to forfeit due to the lack of players.

Much of the credit for the success of the league belongs to President Charles "Whip" Kreitzburg, an employee of the Wilson Hardware Company, whose untiring efforts played a major part in keeping the boys "on their toes."

The speedy reporting of games by this circuit was most amazing this season. They had a 6:15 starting time and throughout the campaign the reports of four games daily were cleared numerous times through this office by 8:15.

DENVER MITCHELL, of Harrisville, W. Va., Northern High School's first football coach, who resigned after tutoring the Huskies for the past five years, is moving to Westminster High School in Carroll county, according to Lilburn Brown, athletic director at the Garrett County School.

At Westminster, Mitchell will be ninth grade science and physics teacher and will coach the Owls baseball team.

Carroll Bumgarner (that's the correct way to spell his name) is the new grid mentor at Northern where 23 candidates answered the first call on Monday.

IF YOUR DOG has been hurt and has to wear a bandage on his leg or foot, wet a cake of soap and rub it over the bandage. Since dogs don't like the taste of soap, this will keep him from tearing the bandage with his teeth—Mrs. Ernest Miller in Field and Stream Magazine.

It's worth a try, anyway.

ERNEST A. VAUGHN, director of the Maryland Game and Inland Fish Commission, announces that between his Commission and the Department of Forests and Parks, the two agencies will open 157,740 acres of state-controlled land to public hunting during the 1960-61 season.

Seventy-four per cent of the state-controlled lands is in Garrett and Allegany counties. The Garrett acreage is set at 78,360 and Allegany's is 39,345 or a total of 117,705.

The largest hunting area in the state, comprising 52,520 acres, is the Savage River State Forest in Garrett county. Other hunting acreage in Garrett includes Potomac State Forest 12,050, Swallow Falls State Forest 7,400, Salt Block Wildlife Management Area 3,500, Mt. Nebo Wildlife Management Area 1,791 and the Meadow Mountain Recreation Area 1,000.

Second largest hunting area in the state is the Green Ridge State Forest in Allegany county with 25,630 acres. There are 7,689 acres in the Dan's Mountain Wildlife Management Area, 4,000 in the Borden Company Wildlife Management Area and 2,226 in the Warrior Mountain Wildlife Management Area.

All of the areas in the two Western Maryland counties abound in deer, wild turkey, grouse, rabbits and squirrels.

TO SPORTS CAR racing enthusiasts: Connellsville (Pa.) will stage sport car races at its airport Oct. 8-9.

Approximately 150 cars and drivers are expected to compete for trophies and the racing is expected to attract 10,000 spectators.

Technical portion of the program will be in charge of the Steel Cities Region of the Sports Car Club of America which annually does such a good job in handling the races here.

THE FIRST international brick throwing contest was held recently and the town of Stroud, Okla., beat its namesake in England.

The best throw by the Oklahoma team was 106 feet, 6 inches. The Britons' best performance was 84 feet, 4 inches from the throwing line.

Both teams threw simultaneously on opposite sides of the Atlantic. Notes were compared over international telephone.

The Britons used bricks specially made to conform to the American pattern and 1 1/4 pounds lighter than the British standard brick.

Maybe some of our building contractors would be interested in finding a use for bricks that are left over or perhaps Bob Pence could add brick throwing to the county track program.

Anyway, see if you can beat that 106 feet, 6 inches—but be careful of the windows.

Cleveland Bows To Detroit, 5-3

Battle Pittsburgh Plate Glass Today

DETROIT (UPI) — The Detroit Tigers knocked out a Cleveland rally in the ninth inning Friday night to defeat the Indians, 5-3, behind the eight-hit pitching of Bill Fischer and Frank Bolling's three-run homer.

Fischer, who yielded only five hits over the first eight frames, ran into trouble in the ninth when Cleveland loaded the bases with one out on singles by Jim Piersall, Tito Francona and pinch-hitter Bob Hale.

Fischer then gave way to reliever Hank Aguirre who retired the side.

It was the sixth win in the last seven starts for the sixth-place Tigers.

Bolling's home run, his eighth of the season, followed singles by Al Kaline and Rocky Colavito in the sixth inning and broke up a 2-2 duel between Fischer and Cleveland's Bobby Locke.

Detroit took a 1-0 lead in the first on a walk and an infield out and Norm Cash's single. But the Indians erased it in the second on Vic Power's single, an error, a single by Francona and a sacrifice fly.

The Tigers' second run came in the fifth on Harry Chitt's single, a sacrifice and a single by Cash, who had three hits for the Tigers.

Cleveland's final run came in the eighth on two singles and a walk.

Former Blackhawk Athlete To Succeed Richard Harmison

Ronald F. Phillips, 22, former Ridgeley High School and Fairmont State College athlete, yesterday was named head football, basketball and track coach at Charles Town High School in Jefferson County, W. Va.

"Ronnie" succeeds Richard Harmison, who resigned in June to take over the grid coaching duties at Martinsburg High School as successor to John Coburn.

The new Charles Town head coach is a native of Ridgeley and was graduated from Ridgeley High School in 1955. He also graduated from Fairmont State College, Fairmont, W. Va.

"Ronnie" Phillips first attracted attention as an athlete in the Central YMCA Sunday School Basketball League when he played with Calvary Methodist. Phillips, Eddie Fowelson and Fritz Showers played together on the Calvary quint and also were members of the Potomac Valley Conference championship team at Ridgeley High in 1955. Chester G. Payne, now Allegheny High coach, tutored the Blackhawk quint that won 23 and lost 4 that season. Other members of the squad included Kenny Hartman and Ronnie Nield.

Phillips played basketball under Coach Payne in his sophomore, junior and senior years, also played football at Ridgeley High and was the last athlete to win the Cumberland Knights of Columbus Sportsmanship Award.

Brother Is Coach

Bill Phillips, a brother of Ronnie, who starred as an athlete at Ridgeley High School in the days Jesse Riegleman was coach of the Blackhaws, is the head basketball coach and assistant football coach at Rivesville High School in Marion county.

Four Top Pen-Mar Clubs Will See Action Today

Barrelville Visits Hyndman, Reds Play Moorefield

It's still a wide open race for the pennant and the four playoff spots in the Pen-Mar Baseball League with only two games separating the leader and runner-up and five games between the pacesetters and the sixth place club.

Six of the eight teams still in the fight have from five to eight games yet to play before the curtain on the regular season is rung down on Labor Day, September 5, and the way the clubs have been taking turns knocking each other off anything can happen in the closing weeks of the campaign.

Hyndman Hosts Exports

Six games are on for top for today and tomorrow. Four of the top contenders will see action today with Barrelville (16-6) the leader, slated to tackle the second place Hyndman Merchants (13-7) at Hyndman while Centerville (13-8), occupant of third place goes to Moorefield (12-11) to play the West Virginia club.

The Sports Patrol

By JACK CUDDY
NEW YORK (UPI) — "I've always wanted a fast finish—now I gotta make one."

That's how Whitey Ford, the Yankee ace of the New York Yankees pitching staff, sums up his role in the closing days of the frantic American League pennant chase. The Arroyos, Shantz's and Terrys have helped the Yankees through the August "dog days" but the Yankees know Ford must be their "big man" in September if they are to win the flag.

"He's the best pitcher we got," barks manager Casey Stengel, "and, like I been sayin' for the last eight years, when he's right he's just about the best pitcher anybody's got."

Never Won Twenty
Ford, about 5 feet, 10 inches and 175 pounds, has always had one of the most deceptive records in baseball. He's never won 20 games in a single season. And yet nobody in baseball questions his status as one of the best pitchers in the majors.

The reason is that Ford has demonstrated that his only real fault as a pitcher is a certain lack of durability. He hasn't won 20 because he hasn't pitched enough to get that many victories.

Jaycee Junior Golf Title Is Won By Floyd

Fayetteville Lad's 284 Is Best By Five

WATERLOO, Iowa (UPI) — Raymond Floyd, 17-year-old North Carolina whiz, hit his stride again on the greens and fairways Friday — but his mathematics were not so good — as he won the 15th International Jaycee Junior Golf championship here.

The Fayetteville sharpshooter who had led from the opening round, ran afoul of the official tabulators when he turned in a scorecard reading 36-35-71, which would have given him a 72-hole total of 283.

When the adding machines went to work, they came up with a 36-36-72, and Floyd was stuck with it.

The North Carolinian's scorekeeper explained that the mistake was his. He recorded a 4 for Floyd on the 12th when actually he parred it at 3.

But tournament officials ruled that since Floyd had signed the card he would have to accept the total shown. That gave him a 284 instead of a 283 total, but still good enough to win by 5 strokes.

A total of 204 contestants from 49 states, the District of Columbia, the Panama Canal Zone and Japan started the tournament.

Silver Song Favored In Rich Trot

Roosevelt Is Site For $50,000 Race

WESTBURY, N.Y. (UPI) — Silver Song, winner of last Saturday's American trotting championship, heads the field of eight horses representing six countries Saturday night in the $50,000 International at Roosevelt Raceway.

The American horse, who will be driven by Howard Camden from the No. 1 post position, is rated the 2-1 morning line choice.

Hairos, the Dutch and European champion, is next at 7-2 and will start from the No. 4 post. Willem Geersens, 6-4, 260-pounds, will handle Hairos.

Ann Landers . . .

Answers Your Problems

DEAR ANN: May I have your candid opinion of identification bracelets worn around the ankle of a woman?

My mother says they are downright cheap and no respectable woman would be caught dead in one. I remember a very charming woman, middle-aged, who worked in a bank. She was secretary to the president and spoke in a most refined manner. She wore an ankle bracelet to work every day.

I've pulled the office where I work and have received a wide variety of responses. Now, may I have yours?—CHECKING bracelets on my neck, as well as the thousands of women who wear them, I must concede I am less than enthusiastic about them.

DEAR CHECKING: At the risk of having jeweler who sells ankle

If a woman needs an identification bracelet to know who she is, she should wear it around her wrist. Jewelry worn around the ankle calls attention to the leg, which, in my opinion, is not dignified. There is something to be said for being found dead in one, however. It's immediate identification.

DEAR ANN: I married Jeff when I was 18. I had two babies and two miscarriages in two years. I could fill this newspaper with stories of the abuse I suffered. For the children's sake I put up with swollen lips and black eyes. When Jeff broke my jaw I divorced him.

This was two years ago. He has telephoned me almost every week to ask if I've found anyone else.

Last night Jeff came to see me and said he's been living with a girl. She's expecting his child any day and he says he "owes her something," so he plans to stay with her another few months. Then he wants to remarry me.

He took the family bible and swore he'd be a good husband if I'd give him another chance. My mother says I should take him back for the children's sake.

Should I?—EMMA

DEAR EMMA: That "something" he owes the girl he's living with is marriage.

Jeff was no good when you were married to him and he hasn't improved. Just because a man swears on a bible doesn't mean he's read it or that he intends to live by it.

DEAR ANN LANDERS: How can I keep a certain well-meaning friend out of my hair? She lives in the next block and comes to visit EVERY day at about 9 a.m.

This woman has no children, gets up at the crack of dawn to do her housework, and by 9 o'clock she's ready to go visiting.

I can't make a telephone call or enjoy my newspaper with a second cup of coffee. She follows me around the house saying "Don't let me get in your way. Just go about your business as if I weren't here."

You know, Ann Landers this is IMPOSSIBLE.

This togetherness is driving me mad. How can I suggest a little apartness without offending the woman? She's very nice and I DO like her.

—I'M BEING FOLLOWED

Dear Followed: You have a double-barreled problem which calls for special handling. The woman is an insensitive clod and has poor judgment besides.

Nothing short of a frank blast will penetrate her hide. Try this: "I love your company but I can't do my housework properly when you're visiting. Please don't come over without first calling."

Does almost everyone have a good time but you? If so, send for ANN LANDERS' booklet.

Keeping Up With Hollywood

by Louella Parsons

HOLLYWOOD — Cyd Charisse the Beverly Hills Hotel. Tom and cigar-smoking, droll Ernie Kovacs strike me as unlikely a brace of co-stars imaginable—but Cyd and Ernie it is for "Five Golden Hours" which starts shooting in London and Venice early in September. Although Cyd won't dance a single number, Ernie will sport his stogie and wisecracks in this sophisticated comedy being produced by Anglo-Films.

"Babylon" which Cyd was supposed to make in Europe has run into script delay, but she left for Venice Film Festival where she'll attend the opening of her Paris picture "Mademoiselle."

The Via Veneto in Rome will be filled with Americans for the next few months. The latest to join the picture - making colony and the Olympic visitors is Guy Madison who leaves Sunday to star in "The Slave of Rome," a religious spectacle of the early Christian era, with Rossana Podesta.

"I tried awfully hard in Hollywood," Guy told me, "but I find if you make a lot of cheap pictures it gets you nowhere. So I've been happy when Podesta's (Mrs. M.) will join me in two weeks, bringing our two oldest girls."

"What are you doing with my goddaughter Dolly Madison?" I wanted to know.

"Oh, we're leaving her here with a nurse until we get settled. She's a real character," he said.

Every male eye in the Au Petit Jean Restaurant was turned in the direction of Margo Moore, who resembles the Grace Kelly who charmed every man both in and out of the movies when she reigned in Hollywood. Margo was having a farewell dinner with her favorite boyfriend Bob Radnitz, who is off to join the "Misty" company in Virginia.

"I'm going to starve," she told me. "I'm on suspension from 20th Century-Fox. I refused to make three pictures, 'Lost World,' 'The Wizard of Baghdad,' and 'As You Desire Me.' I want something really good for me."

"But 'Lost World' made a lot of money," I told her. "There's something more in the world than money," said Margo. "I want a good picture if I'm going to stay in movies. I have a date with Spyros Skouras and I'm hopeful we can reach some conclusion."

Pleasant talking to Paul Anka who just finished his movie "Look In Any Window" and left for New York. "I called to say au revoir," he said. "I'm doing a one-man show at Hunter College, then off to Buenos Aires where I open Sept. 15, and on to Sao Paulo (Brazil) for an engagement. Wish me luck!"

"I think you have that, Paul, with your records selling like hotcakes," I said.

"Speaking of records," he said. "I'm cutting a Christmas album while I'm in New York." Oh, no, Christmas just can't be that close!

Man Charged With Murder In Mate's Death

Shooting Occurs At New Germany

A 34-year-old Baltimore man yesterday afternoon was charged with murder in the early morning shooting of his wife during a violent argument in the New Germany section of Garrett County.

Victim of the shooting was Mrs. Mary Elizabeth Yuhaniak, 39, who died minutes after being taken to Miners Hospital in Frostburg by her husband, John Yuhaniak, a sugar refinery worker in Baltimore.

Mr. Yuhaniak, who was arrested at the hospital by State Police, was given a preliminary hearing before Trial Magistrate Robert M. Maroney in Oakland.

The magistrate ordered Mr. Yuhaniak held without bond in Garrett County jail pending action of the September term of the grand jury.

The couple, police said, had been visiting with her uncle, Clarence Yaist, who resides at New Germany. They reported that the man and his wife were returning home in their car early yesterday morning when a violent argument started.

Pulled Revolver
Cpl. Samuel Conrad said Mr. Yuhaniak pulled a .22 caliber revolver from under the front seat of their parked car and after a struggle, the gun went off.

During the argument, the victim allegedly struck her husband's hand that was holding the gun and the weapon discharged, sending a bullet through her left cheek and lodging in her brain.

He drove his wounded wife to her uncle's home and the two men rushed her to the hospital where she died shortly after being admitted.

Mrs. Yuhaniak, the mother of two grown daughters, was twice married and had been employed at a canning plant in Baltimore. Sgt. Harry S. Bosley and Troopers Lynwood Robinson and R. J. Graham responded to the call at the hospital and took the husband into custody.

Native Of Frostburg
A native of Frostburg, the victim was a daughter of Mrs. Margaret (Wenck) Larue and the late Henry Stafford.

Besides her mother, she is survived by two daughters, Mrs. George Roth, and Mrs. Joseph Rock Jr., both of Baltimore; two sisters, Mrs. James Constantino and Mrs. Leslie Udovick, of Baltimore.

Three brothers, Bernard and William Stafford, Baltimore, Edward Stafford, Brushville, Ind., and a half-brother, William Larue of Baltimore. Her stepfather, Clayton Larue, also survives. The body was taken to the Leonard J. Ruck Funeral Home, 5303 Harford Road, Baltimore.

Joint Meeting Set In Oakland Plant Dispute

Federal Agency Will Seek End Of Strike

Efforts to resolve a contract dispute which closed an Oakland poultry processing plant early this week will be made there next Tuesday.

The Federal Mediation and Conciliation Service has arranged the joint meeting for August 22 at 10 a.m. in Oakland.

Plans for the meeting were announced by Joseph Freno, business agent for Local 453, Teamsters Union, which represents about 15 drivers employed by the Sterling Processing Corporation's plant in Oakland.

The rest of the some 125 workers of the plant are represented by Meat Cutters Local 424 from Pittsburgh.

The federal agency did not advise the parties who would represent the government at the meeting, but it will probably be Commissioner James A. Holden, who has arranged a meeting here next Wednesday afternoon between Local 419, Utility Workers Union, and the C & A Gas Company.

The Oakland strike began Monday at midnight after the unions terminated a contract extension. The chief dispute when talks broke off appeared to be the timing of a six-cent wage package in a 2½-year contract.

Mr. Freno stressed that the last proposal made for the unions, which called for three cents retroactive to July and the same amount next July, was made by union negotiators, who had no assurance that the memberships would accept.

The plant began operations in Oakland slightly over three years ago.

County To Get $140,000 Share Of Bond Issue

Eight To Benefit From $1,684,000

All five counties in the Sixth Congressional District are among the eight in Maryland which will share the $1,684,000 County Highway Construction Bonds, Seventh Series, which are being issued by the State Roads Commission.

Morris M. Brodsky, assistant comptroller of the State Roads Commission, submitted several detailed reports to the Allegany County Board of Commissioners on the status of this bond issue.

One report shows that the $140,000 Allegany County seeks out of the issue will be repaid by 1976. The interest on the issue which the county must pay will amount to $43,207.80 in the 16 years. That makes the total cost of the $140,000 amount to $183,207.80.

Another report from Mr. Brodsky shows no county will receive exactly what it requested because a total of $9,938.38 cost for issuance of the bonds will have to be paid by the eight counties involved among Maryland's 23.

Here's the way it works out: Allegany County will pay $826.23 expenses, realizing $139,173.77 instead of $140,000; Anne Arundel County will pay $1,440 expenses, netting $242,560 of a requested $244,000; Cecil County will pay $1,475.41, netting $248,524.59 out of a $250,000 request; Frederick County will pay $1,729.19, netting $291,270.81 of a requested $293,000; Garrett County will pay $1,127.21, netting $189,872.79 from a $191,000 request; Montgomery County will pay $1,864.93, netting $314,135.07 out of a $316,000 request; Queen Anne's County will pay $295.08, netting $49,704.92 from a $50,000 request, and Washington County will pay $1,180.33, netting $198,819.67 from a $200,000 request.

The $9,938.38 expenses, as listed by Mr. Brodsky, included $5,050 for bond counsel; $2,500 financial aid; $1,009.36 for printing the bonds; $915.80 for printing of official statement; $264.55 for advertising the bond sale and $198.67 travel expenses.

Allegany County plans to use its $139,173.77 for work on the North Orleans Road from U.S. Route 40 toward the C&O Canal in the vicinity of Little Orleans in Election District 1 and for Bear Hill Road in Election District 2, between Oldtown Road and Williams Road.

Pocketbook, $200 Is Stolen From Restaurant Here
The theft of a local woman's pocketbook which contained $200 and was taken from her place of business on Valley Street Thursday night is being investigated by local authorities.

City Police Detective Captain James E. Van said a complaint was received from Mrs. Viola I. Billard, 426 Bond Street, who operates Viola's Restaurant at 213 Valley Street.

Two or three persons were in on the theft, according to Captain Van who explained that Mrs. Billard and another woman were in the kitchen where the pocketbook was located.

Someone threw a rock through a front window of the restaurant and when the two women and another man in the business place went to investigate, someone entered the restaurant by a side door from Bond Street and took the pocketbook.

Police Clear Larcenies In County Area

Four Face Hearing In Juvenile Court

A wave of breaking and enterings and larcenies of a Frostburg home and a business place and a drive-in theater office near McCoolle have been cleared by authorities who arrested five juveniles including one of the boys who was caught "red handed" by a State Police officer.

Yesterday about 10:30 a. m. Tfc. Milton G. Hart, criminal investigator for the State Police, caught a 15-year-old boy of RD 3, Keyser, who was helping himself to some money in the office of the Hi-Rock Drive-In Theater on U.S. Route 220 near McCoolle.

Trooper Hart said the police got a complaint that the office had been entered during the three days prior to the boy's arrest. The boy, he said, admitted taking $20.50 from the office.

The lad was taken to the LaVale Barracks yesterday and Trooper Hart indicated he would be turned over to his parents pending a further investigation.

The state trooper teamed up with Frostburg police in apprehending four juveniles earlier this week. He said they admitted entering a private home and business establishment in Frostburg.

The boys, who live in Frostburg and Eckhart, took about $30 from the home which was entered August 14 after a window had been broken. Doors of the home were damaged in the entry attempt, said Trooper Hart.

The business place was entered July 16 and 20, and $40 was reported taken. Entry was made through a side door, police said.

The boys were apprehended by Sgt. Carl Hetz and other members of the Frostburg Police Department who were given an assist by the state trooper.

After being questioned in Frostburg and at the state's attorney's office, three of the juveniles were taken to the detention quarters at the county infirmary, and the fourth was released in custody of his parents.

After causing a disturbance at the detention quarters, they were taken to the county jail and confined to the women's quarters.

Trooper Hart said the four boys will be given a hearing at 1:30 p. m. Monday in Juvenile Court here.

Stop Signs Are Placed

Stop signs have been placed on Frederick Street at the North Liberty and North Centre Street intersections by the Cumberland Police Department.

Police Chief B. F. Gaffney urged all motorists to observe the stop signs, which were installed Thursday.

Virtually all motorists were observing the full stop at the Centre Street intersection yesterday but many had not discovered the Liberty Street stop sign.

More plastic markers were installed in the downtown area yesterday.

Chief Gaffney said discs will be placed to mark the point where cars
